I met Eric through Damon while visiting Miami and his love of music was something that I shared. I so enjoyed discussing music trends and new remixes when I would see him while visiting S.Beach. . I will always cherish the CDs he made for me. He always knew the latest songs and if I needed to know the name i could email him and he instantly knew them. Gone to soon! Tom McDonald Chicago

I met Eric in 1995 after chatting on America On Line. Our first phone conversation lasted hours mostly talking about sports and the Miami Dolphins. The night we met, as I saw him walking out of his parents condo where I picked him up in South Beach, he had a big ol from. He got in the car and we talked as if we have known each other for years. The chemistry between us with instant. We went out to Warsaw and immediately realized we shared the same love for music. We got season tickets to the Miami Dolphins along with Nick Morales. The 3 of us became more than friends....we became brothers. We took numerous trips to Disney, New York, and other places through out the years. Each trip filled with Sporting events, Music & Dancing, Broadway Shows....but most of all....spending time with great friends. For one thing about Eric, he valued true friendship. The love he felt for others in our circle, was genuine and heartfelt. I miss you so much brother. Until the day I see you again....love you!!
