Maybe the private blog is the way to go, though I suspect you'd need some time to get revved up for that. The pod/video angle sounds great, but that raises a lot of other questions. And it loses the immediacy that you enjoyed so long, which is one of the most unfortunate losses in all this.##imported-begin##Camila_California##imported-end##

I'm not sure what you have against "The Five". I mean, four of the five panel members are on the right. The only creep is Bob Beckel. I admit, his creepiness makes the show a bit harder to handle. But Greg Gutfeld makes up for it! I LOVE him!! Beckel will probably have a stroke or a heart attack on the show one day and they can just shove him off the stage and continue on.##imported-begin##Bella_Arizona##imported-end##

Kathy, the content you have graciously shared with us every once in a while is both inspiring and entertaining. And a blog is the perfect medium for this. My Dear Joan - We are so very sad to know you have said good-bye to your sweet love, Clarke. Yet, how generous of you to share these most beautiful photos of him and the people he held so close to his heart. Clarke was so often one of those "silent angels" who knew just what to do or just how to bring comfort and assurance to us when we struggled to know where to go with our questions. How often we had to interrupt a Board meeting to get Clarke's advice! Always caring, always generous, and always a wealth of knowledge, Clarke would lead us out of whatever turmoil we were in. We loved him, Joan, as we all love you. May you find peace and comfort in your treasured memories... Jane, for all who care at HRI
