My deepest condolences especially to wife and children and other family members. I will always remember Aston as a fun loving person. I will remember the wonderful times we had at Orange Grove (roast fish and badminton)and various outings (crab hunts) to name a few. I know that Aston has found peace with his Saviour and I pray that you will experience the peace and only Christ can give. It is said that weeping may endure for a night (no knows how long a night will be) but thank God that there is a promise of joy in the morning (when we will meet him face to face. Remember, God has promised that he will never leave us nor forsake.May you experience his abiding grace.Love & Prayers, Enid.###imported-begin##Enid V. Gayle###imported-end##

Truly, truly, I say to you, he who hears My words, and believes Him who sent Me, has eternal life, and does not come into judgment, but has passed out of death into life. Jonh 5:24 What a wonderful place Aston is at with, Jesus his Lord and Savior, resting in the arms of Christ Jesus the God of all! My heart was with you as I though and set your needs before my God, that He would give you grace in your time of great need. Bev give Him your cares for He cares for you.... His eye is on the sparrow and I know HE watches me(us). Praying for u and your children.##imported-begin##Sherre' Chin##imported-end##

I just heard via FB that Aston needed prayer. Now he is home in the arms of his and our precious heavenly Father. Bev I dont know if you remember me but I was one of the youth group who hung out at Aston's years ago. I have such pleasant and vivid memories of his beautiful spirit that I am sure will live on in your children. Just remember that someday we will all be reunited in that beautiful place called heaven. The pain is deep but the promise is great that our heavenly Father gave to us that He is gone to prepare a place for us.##imported-begin##Maxine Salmon-Smith and Dr. George Smith and family##imported-end##

To: Bev, Lori, Jamie and familyThe shock has not even begun to wear off but please know you are in my thoughts and prayers that God would hold you all "really tight" and that His presence would be more real to you now than ever before, and bring peace, and comfort.Aston reflected the kindness, generosity, gentleness, goodness, and patience of God in ways that will always be remembered as long as we are here on earth and celebrated again when we all get together in heaven.Tears are flowing now but praise God we do not "sorrow as others who have no hope". Hanging on to the sure hope of seeing Aston again! Maranatha!##imported-begin##Ann Marie Collins nee Baker##imported-end##

Aston will be remembered as a very soft spoken and mild mannered man, easy going and the kind of person who welcomed everyone into his home and you felt the warmth & affection of being accepted in his presence. I will always remember the good old days of hanging out at his place in Orange Grove and many of the folks will agree with me that Aston's hospitality won over a lot of the young people to the Lord.##imported-begin##Frederick (Prof) Ho##imported-end##
