Bill, I have such wonderful memories working with you at Assurant. You really knew and understood the importance of good controls in place to support our source code. I learned so much from you, always looking for what was best with respectful kindness and a very insightful way of coming up with solutions. I appreciated how much you cared for all the people you worked with and gave everyone a voice. God has a new angel to watch over all of us. My condolences to all family and friends and may the memories of Bill provide comfort.

My brother and habib albi William. You brought me to this country for a better life. You took care of me, always guiding me and steering me in the right direction to become the man that I am now... I wouldn't be where I am now without my big brother. William had a strong faith in GOD and lived his life as a committed and dedicated Catholic. I'm not really sure where to begin because I have so much to say, but My Walloum as I always called him was my hero, my rock, my idol and father figure. William was the most amazing, gentle, caring, funny, and Smart human being anybody will ever know and also was a loving godfather for my boys Nick and Daniel. Anyone that knew William described him as a gentleman. Anytime I had a question or needed something I called William because he simply knew the answer or the solution to everything. Always amazing me with his wisdom. He taught me how to play tennis and ping pong. He was an amazing ping pong player and won multiple championships. William was also a talented drummer, loved music, had a passion for photography and enjoyed cooking. He was an all around star in my eyes. I looked up to him so much to the point that I also wanted to be 6'5", tall and handsome. Every advice he gave me in life was spot on. He taught me discipline, perseverance and hard work leads to success and that's exactly what happened. He saw the future for me and my brother Kameel and made sure we got to where he wanted us to be. Ya habib albi ya Walloum. We will miss you so so much. I know you are enjoying heaven with Mom and Dad now which makes us jealous, but we shall be together again someday. May you rest in peace my beloved brother, and may your light always shine on us as you were the light of our family. Can't imagine life without you and your beautiful smile my Walloum. Your brothers. Kameel and Nick.

Bill was an incredibly kind person, one of the best human beings I was lucky enough to call a friend. I always called him Billy (I'm not aware of anybody else calling him this way). Billy was a talented table tennis player. We started to work at the same company the same year, back in the 90's. We quickly became doubles partners, for close to 20 years. He was the reason we won every tournament but one (he was singles champion many times during those years). Billy's talents did not end there, he was very skilled at dealing with people, always respectful, cordial, gracious, gentle, never losing his temper, and as the saying goes, "cool, calm, and collected." Insults, profanity, were never part of his vocabulary. Treating people well was his way of life. He's heart was almost as big as his imposing 6'5" figure. It is no wonder that he was loved by so many. He leaves behind a wife and a daughter that seem to have all of his outstanding qualities. Billy, you go on my friend, you left us, but you also left an indelible mark on those who truly got to know you. Thanks for the memories, thanks for the friendship, and thanks for the many ping pong trophies we won together. I'll miss you, no doubt, and BTW, I'll also miss your heavenly hummus and espresso coffee. So long my friend, until we meet again, maybe, in this vast universe that we are and always will be part of.

I've known Bill since we both worked for a very high stress "leisure" travel company in 1993. It was a crazy place and we managed their technology systems. Bill's personality and clear thinking always had a calming effect on the team. Couple of years later, we both wind up at Assurant and started a daily lunch habit that lasted for 20 years. Bill, Norman and I would always try to get away and Bill was always ready to explore some exotic lunch places...sometimes too exotic, but always fun. Bill was a great friend and was always there to listen. We helped each other through some tough times and Bill was always a source of strength and advice. I miss my friend. I hope his family finds comfort at this time knowing Bill had an amazing, positive influence over the many people he knew. I was so very lucky to be one of them.

I have known William since adolescence back in Lebanon. He was this calm and collected young man who loved to play the drums. After losing contact with him for years I bumped into him in our church in Miami. Walking in the parking lot, I heard his familiar voice from a distance and when I looked, I saw the familiar hand gestures that always accompanied his words. Besides being a good friend, he was a good man, a good son, a good brother and a good husband. I did not see much of him in the last few years so I hope that when I pass away my soul would be deserving to end in the same place where his resides now. To his loved ones I can only pray for God to give them the faith to accept his passing and to grant them the strength to carry on. I miss you, my dear friend.

When I think of Bill, I remember his patience and his kindness, his voice of reason in the most challenging of times. We worked together for many years at Assurant, and we always appreciated his hard work and support for his team. He often spoke of his wife and daughter, with love and pride. My deepest sympathy to his family.
