“ Norma was a beautiful classy lady. I will miss the conversations we had just about anything and everything. I always learned something from her. She was a sincere down to earth person with a caring heart. Rest in peace Norma you will never be forgotten.

“ My condolences to the whole family. It was an honor for me to be Mrs Coon's hairdresser for 22 years. May God have her in his glory. Everyone at the salon will always remember her. Peace for her soul. RIP Mrs. Coon.

“ May your spirit soar dear Norma Coon. I have such wonderful memories of you and the fun we had attending the ballet and music concerts, with Nila and beloved daughter Cynthia.
My deepest condolences to the entire family.

“ Mrs. Coon, as we all referred to her in our younger years. Norma became my reference, not out of disrespect, but because of familiarity as we grew older. She was quite a force. I will always remember her strong drive and determination. She had many "stories to tell." It was an "art" that she perfected. She worked well into her 80's, not an easy task for someone that encountered the blows in life that she did. She was there at Jackson for mybrother Jim in 1981. Most of his "friends" bailed because they couldn't take it. Norma could, thank God. I know Jim appreciated it. So Norma, to help you with your beloved cat, to be there for you at the 11th hour, was an honor. I pray you have respite in the Divine Healing Light, of Source Creator. You and everyone, Syd, Stuart and countless other loved ones.
I will always respect and love you...the little girl from across 87th Avenue, asking at your front door if your "kiddies" could come out to play?! I only came with a pure heart.

I hope you're living/dancing in the light, Norma Sophie Coon!

“ Norma Coon has always been a second-if not primary-mother figure in our home during our childhood and later years. She's been there to assist me in legal matters and when I was dealt with wrongly. She's been a constant Rock and friend for my mom. We'll miss her stopping by after work and many visits we had. She was a good friend who offered moral support and advice. She'll be missed but is in better place with her soul group on other side. Thanks for being such an enduring friend.
